Indigence Determination Standards

05/20/2021

II

A. Definitions, as used in this rule:

- i. “Indigent” means a person who is not financially able to employ counsel.
- ii. “Net household income” in the case of a child is the income of the child’s parents or other person determined responsible for the support of the child. Such income shall include: take-home wages and salary (gross income earned minus those deductions required by law or as a condition of employment); net self-employment income (gross income minus business expenses, and those deductions required by law or as a condition of operating the business); regular payments from a governmental income maintenance program, alimony, child support, public or private pensions, or annuities; and income from dividends, interest, rents, royalties, or periodic receipts from estates or trusts. Seasonal or temporary income shall be considered on an annualized basis, averaged together with periods in which the person determined responsible for the support of the child has no income or lesser income.
- iii. “Household” means all individuals who are actually dependent on the child’s parent(s) or person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child, for financial support.
- iv. “The cost of obtaining competent private legal representation” includes the reasonable cost of support services such as investigators and expert witnesses as necessary and appropriate given the nature of the case.

B. Eligibility for Appointment

- i. A child is presumed indigent if any of the following conditions or factors are present:

1. At the time of requesting appointed counsel, a child is presumed indigent if the child's parent(s) or other person(s) determined responsible for the support of the child is eligible to receive food stamps, Medicaid, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, Supplemental Security Income, or public housing.
 2. The net household income of the child's parent(s) or other person(s) determined responsible for the support of the child does not exceed 100% of the Poverty Guidelines as revised annually by the United States Department of Health and Human Services and published in the Federal Register;
 3. The child's parent(s) or other person(s) determined responsible for the support of the child is currently serving a sentence in a correctional institution, is currently residing in a public mental health facility, or is subject to a proceeding in which admission or commitment to such a mental health facility is sought; or
- ii. The child who does not meet any of the standards above shall nevertheless be considered indigent if the child's parent(s) or other person(s) responsible for the support of the child is unable to retain private counsel without substantial hardship. In considering if obtaining private counsel will create a substantial hardship, the appointing authority shall take into account:
1. the nature of the charge(s);
 2. anticipated complexity of the defense;
 3. the estimated cost of obtaining competent private legal representation for the matter(s) charged;
 4. the amount needed for the support of the child, the child's parent(s)/person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child and other dependents of the child's parent(s)/person(s) responsible for the support of the child;

5. child's parent(s)' income or the income of other person(s) determined responsible for the support of the child;
 6. source of income;
 7. assets and property owned by the child, child's parent(s), or other person(s) determined responsible for support of the child;
 8. outstanding obligations;
 9. necessary expenses; and
 10. the number and ages of any siblings of the child.
- iii. Factors NOT to be considered in determining indigence:
1. The resources available to friends or relatives of the child, other than the child's parent(s) or other person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child, may not be considered in determining whether the child is indigent.
 2. Only the child's parent(s) or other person(s) responsible for the support of the child and the child's financial circumstances as measured by the financial standards stated in this rule shall be used as the basis for determining indigence.

C. Indigence Proceedings:

- i. The appointing authority can require the child and the child's parent(s) or other person(s) responsible for the child to respond to questions about the child's household financial status, produce documentation supporting financial information provided, and/or order a court official to verify financial information provided.
- ii. Information gathered for determining indigence, both in the affidavit of indigence and through oral examination, may not be for any purpose other than:

1. Determining if the child is (or is not) indigent; or
 2. Impeaching direct testimony of the child or the child's parent(s)/person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child regarding the child's indigence.
- iii. A request by the appointing authority for additional information, documentation, and/or verification cannot delay appointment of counsel beyond the timelines specified in Parts I and IV of these rules.
- iv. A child determined to be indigent is presumed to remain indigent for the remainder of the case unless a material change in the child's financial circumstances occurs.
1. A child's status as indigent or not indigent may be reviewed in a formal hearing at any stage of a court proceeding. The child's indigent status will be presumed not to have changed. The presumption can be rebutted in the review proceedings based on the following:
 - a. Evidence of a material change in the child's parent(s)/person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child and the child's financial circumstances; or
 - b. Additional information regarding the child's parent(s)/person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child and the child's financial circumstances that shows that they do not meet any of the standards for indigence contained in these rules.
 2. If a child previously determined to be indigent is subsequently determined not to be indigent, the court appointed attorney shall be compensated by the county according to the fee schedule for hours reasonably expended on the case.
- v. If the court determines that a child's parent(s) or other person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child has financial resources that enable him/her to offset in part or in whole the costs of the legal services provided, including any expenses and costs, the court shall order the child's parent(s) or other person(s) deemed responsible for the support of the child to pay the charges. Further, if the child is found to have engaged in delinquent conduct or CINS, the court shall order costs, including legal expenses and fees to be paid by the child's parent(s) or other person(s) responsible for the support of the child to the extent the court finds he/she is able to pay them.

Attorney Selection Process

V

- A. The appointing authority will identify which of the appointment lists, discussed in the attorney qualifications section, is most appropriate based on the accusations against the child and will appoint the attorney whose name is first on the list, unless the court makes a finding of good cause on the record for appointing an attorney out of order. Good cause may include:
 - i. The child requesting counsel does not understand English, in which case the judge will appoint the lawyer whose name appears next in order and speaks the clients' language, if one is available;
 - ii. The child has an attorney already appointed on a prior pending or concluded matter. The same attorney will be appointed to the new matter, unless the attorney is not on the list for the type of offense involved in the current case;
 - iii. An initial detention hearing is scheduled and the first attorney on the list is unavailable; or
 - iv. Other good cause exists for varying from the list.
- B. Once appointed, with the exception of the Regional Public Defender's Office, an attorney's name will be moved to the bottom of the appointment list. An attorney who is not appointed in the order in which the attorney's name appears on the list shall remain next in order on the list.

C. Regional Public Defender's Office - The Regional Public Defender's Office will appear on each list so that it receives 100% of cases for each category of offense. The Juvenile Board may, from time to time, adjust the percentage of cases received by the Regional Public Defender's Office. The Regional Public Defender's Office may be removed from a specific list by the judges, if it is determined that the office will no longer handle that category of cases. In such cases, the Regional Public Defender's office appointment rates will be increased for the other categories of offenses to maintain an adequate workload. The Regional Public Defender's office may refuse to accept appointment to a case, if:

- i. A conflict of interest exists;
- ii. The office has insufficient resources to provide adequate representation;
- iii. The office is incapable of providing representation in accordance with the rules of professional conduct; or
- iv. The office shows other good cause for refusing appointment.

D. Judicial Removal from Case:

- i. The judge presiding over a case involving a child may remove appointed counsel upon entering a written order showing good cause for such removal, including without limitation, the following:
 1. Counsel's failure to appear at a court hearing;
 2. Counsel's failure to comply with the requirements imposed upon counsel by this plan;
 3. Current information about the child and the charges against the child indicate that another qualified attorney is more appropriate for the child under these rules;
 4. The appointed counsel shows good cause for being removed, such as illness, workload or scheduling difficulties;
 5. The child requests an attorney, other than trial counsel, for appeal; or

6. The child shows good cause for removal of counsel, including counsel's persistent or prolonged failure to communicate with the child.
- ii. Appointment of Replacement Counsel - Whenever appointed counsel is removed under this section, replacement counsel shall immediately be selected and appointed in accordance with the procedures described in this plan.
