

MOBILE FOOD VENDORS PERMIT

1. What do you need to get your Medina County permit?

- Mobile Food Trailer Inspection or Drawing of your pop-up canopy set- up.
- Copy of Food Handlers Certificate
- $100.00 Cash or Check made out to Medina County

2. Where do I get a food handlers or managers certificate?

You can obtain a certificate online. You may Google “Food Handlers Certificate” and choose one of your own sites or one of the sites listed below:

- Marshie@MMBizSolutions.com 817-291-6000 (for groups/companies)
- www.servsafe.com
- www.efoodcard.com

3. What do I need to show in my mobile trailer or my drawing?

See attached map and after taking your food handlers class; you will learn what is necessary and what is only needed as it applies to what you are cooking.

4. How long is my Medina County permit good for?

The $100.00 county permit is good for 1 year. If you have a mobile trailer and your food handler’s certificate is good for 2 or 3 years, for an additional $100.00 a year; you can up your certificate for another 1 or 2 years.

5. Are other mobile food vendor permits good to use in Medina County?

The only other permit that Medina County recognizes is a State of Texas permit; this is not the same as a Bexar County permit. If you have a State of Texas permit, we will not charge you for Medina County permit; we just need a copy of your State permit.

6. Where can I use my Medina County permit?

D’Hanis, Devine, Castroville, Hondo, Natalia, Rio Medina, Mico, La Coste, Yancey, or any other unincorporated areas. These are all the areas in Medina County where your permit will be required. If you decide to operate in the city limits of Hondo, Devine, Natalia, or Castroville then you will need to obtain a city peddler permit as well as the Medina County permit.

Check out our local Cities web sites and Facebook pages for annual Medina County events where you can use your permit.
